In today's digital age, threats can come in many forms – from theft of funds to extortion or cyberbullying and even express kidnapping.

Theft of funds:

We cover the funds lost as a result of a cyber incident or hacking of your bank account, payment cards or mobile wallet.

Identity theft:

We cover the costs resulting from identity theft including reporting the theft, credit and identity theft monitoring, your lost wages, refiling rejected applications, notarizing affidavits, as well as the cost to reissue a new ID document.

Data restoration & malware decontamination:

We cover the costs to restore your systems and data following a cyber incident.

Cyberbullying and cyberstalking:

We cover the costs to remove the content, lost wages, trauma counselling and costs to move your child to a different school.

Online Sales and Shopping:

If you don't receive goods or services ordered online for personal use, we will compensate you for your financial loss.

Express Kidnapping:

We reimburse you the value of funds or property surrendered in exchange for your release.

Cyber extortion:

If you pay a ransom following an extortion demand, we will reimburse you.

Network security liability:

We assist in defending and settling claims from third parties if a cyber incident on your IoT device or computer systems causes harm to their systems and data.

Privacy and data breach liability:

We assist in defending and settling claims from third parties when your mail account or device is compromised.

Privacy and data breach by third party:

We reimburse your legal defense costs if you are the victim of a third party's data breach.

We understand the intricate actions needed to protect and cover you and your family. We have the expertise. We have the solution.
